

A Certified Welding Fabricator®

Hapco is proud to announce our recognition as a Certified Welding Fabricator® (CWF). By partnering with the industry's top authorities, Hapco's dedication to quality continues to showcase our commitment to excellence. Our recent CWF certification from the American Welding Society is proof of that commitment.

The quality of our welds define the quality of our products, and all Hapco light poles and accessories are manufactured by AWS Certified welders who understand applicable codes, welding procedures and inspection processes. The integrity of our products can be validated with the industry's only LIFETIME WARRANTY on aluminum pole shafts.

Certified Welding Fabricator® certification provides our customers the confidence that our products are of the highest quality – measured by the highest standards in the industry.

Hapco...Committed to Excellence.